

SHERIFF R. R. Veale, of Contra Costa County, charged with using prisoners to build houses on his own property, answers that it was good for the prisoners, who were better off working than locked up, and earned money to support their families. All of which may be a good reason why the sheriff should have recommended some such policy of employment to the supervisors, in the public interest and for the public profit. It is difficult to see how it justifies doing it as a private enterprise, without legal authority, for the private profit of the sheriff. Public office is not the private property of the office holder, and the mere fact that the idea of employing prisoners is a good one does not authorize the sheriff to make himself the lawmaker to enact it, and the beneficiary to profit by it. Sheriff Veale's many friends will hope that he can find a better explanation than this.

DOUBTLESS many wise things were said at the meeting of the Progressive Educational Association at Cleveland, but, under the rules of the journalistic game, the only thing that got into the news was the remark of a German professor in praise of "flapper teachers." He was sure the children love the flapper, and that she will be a good influence on them. Which, of course, all depends on the flapper. If she has good sense and sympathy, the children will love her, as will everybody else, including the young man who will doubtless in a few years tempt her away from the school room, and the other children whom she will some day call her own. If she is self-centered, and thinks only of herself, the children will find her quicker than anybody. Either way, her chief trouble will be with the school trustees, who have the idea that teachers, alone of the human race, should belong to the neuter gender. But let the flapper persist. She has won the vote, in England, and she is getting whatever she wants, in this appreciative country.

AAMERICAN experts will be employed by the Soviet authorities in filming a picture of the Bolshevik revolution of 1917, to follow the film "Potemkin," which portrayed the abortive revolution of 1905. Considering the remarkable technical perfection of "Potemkin," the American assistance is scarcely needed. But perhaps the Americans may advise what will get by the American censors, if the film is sent to this country. What they did to "Potemkin" was particularly stupid. They passed the scene in which the sailors complained of being fed maggots meat, but they cut the picture of the wriggling maggots themselves. They permitted scenes of the most brutal revenge on the naval officers, but cut out the same things on an equally vicious priest. Some of the most terrible parts of the running down of the people by the troops were also cut, though there was nothing politically or morally objectionable in them. The censors merely feared that they would be "repulsive"—which is exactly what they were there for. The film—really a very great one regardless of its propaganda motives—was made no more acceptable politically or morally by these excisions, and it was made stupidly worse artistically. Perhaps we may hope for more intelligence next time.

THREE was some point to Lord Derby's invitation to Senator Borah to visit England and learn to know the British people better, but there was none in Lord Lee's issuing the same invitation to Big Bill Thompson. Senator Borah is an intelligent man, and might learn something. Big Bill could learn nothing, even if he tried, and he would not try. He rightly decided, in his youth, that education would do him no good, and ran away from it. Travel would teach him as little. The only result of such a journey would be that the British might learn some things about the sort of men we Americans occasionally elect. For the sake of America, we can hope that this education be omitted.

"IS THAT 100 per cent, Americanism, or 100 per cent Bolshevikism?" said John Dewey, America's foremost "master of those that know," at a meeting in Philadelphia, to protest against the suppression of a Liberal club, and the dismissal of two professors of the state normal school for unorthodox political views. "If there is anybody who is likely to leave our institutions nothing but a hollow shell, it is the persons who are afraid to permit freedom of speech; those who labeled Bolsheviks or seditionists." And if criticism of government is to be forbidden in "tax-supported schools," have we come to the point where privately supported institutions are to have a monopoly on ideas and opinions about government affairs?"

This is not from any half-baked radical, but from the Professor of Philosophy in Columbia university, presided over by Nicholas Murray Butler, conservative of conservatives, who not only "permits" Professor Dewey to say these things, but agrees with them himself. The Americanism these men support is the Americanism of the Constitution, not of the super-patriot constitutionalists. The Constitution was a radical document, to safeguard the liberties of a people who had done a thing nearly as shocking as Bolshevism is now. The Constitutionalists are about as far from the Constitution as some ecclesiasticism are from the religion of Christ. They imagine that the chief purpose of the constitution was to support the present economic system—a system which did not exist at the time the Constitution as some ecclesiasticisms which it has nothing to do. The right to think and speak as freely the unorthodoxy of our time as our revolutionary forefathers did the unorthodoxy of their time is the Constitution. The constitutionalists need to go back to the Constitution.

Death Takes Former U.C. President

Long Illness Proves Fatal To Noted Man Engaged In Research at Vienna

SON WAS AT BEDSIDE

University Became One of Greatest in World Under Famous Educator's Rule

(By United Press)

VIENNA, May 3.—Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California from 1899 to 1919, died here today after a long illness. He was 73 years of age.

Dr. Wheeler had been living in a hotel here since October, partly to be near his son, who was studying at the university, and partly to engage in research. He had been in ill health several weeks. Dr. Wheeler's son was at his bedside when he died, but was too upset today to say anything regarding plans for the funeral.

DR. WHEELER WENT ABROAD FOR HIS HEALTH

BERKELEY, May 3.—Dr. Benjamin I. Wheeler, 73, president emeritus of the University of California, who died today in Vienna, had been traveling for the last year in Europe.

He was accompanied abroad by his wife and son, Benjamin, most of the time spent in Spain.

Dr. Wheeler was in poor health when he left California and it was largely in hopes that the trip abroad would improve his condition that he decided on the tour.

The Wheelers were expected to return to Berkeley this summer.

It was under Dr. Wheeler's regime that the University of California became the greatest educational institution in the world in size. Its development was his life work, and what he accomplished may be summed up in the significant fact that when he took charge the student body numbered less than 5000 students. Today it has nearly four times that.

Hold Chair of Philosophy

After Dr. Wheeler was advanced to comparative retirement as president emeritus of the university, he continued to hold the chair of philosophy at the institution.

Many universities knew him as lecturer, including Harvard and the University of Berlin. He occupied the Roosevelt chair of lectureship at the latter institution.

Hays Will Make Report on Drive

PASADENA, May 3.—A report on the progress of the $15,000,000 pension drive for aged ministers, inaugurated by the Presbyterian laymen's committee, will be made at a campaign dinner at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Thursday by Will H. Hays.

The scheduled address by Hays was announced here today by Dr. John Willis Baer, regional chairman of the Pacific coast committee.

Hays is expected to formally report that the quota has been fully pledged and give first hand information concerning the drive in Chicago and other eastern cities.

He will make a complete report before the general assembly on May 28, in San Francisco.

Kills Pal Instead of Police Officer

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Arrest of a youth who accidentally shot and killed his pal while the two battled with a policeman may clear up a series of robberies in this city and Los Angeles, police believed yesterday.

Israel Berlow, army deserter, is the youth held. Douglas Bedell was the friend he killed accidentally when a shot aimed at a policeman Frank Small missed its intended mark and pierced Bedell's forehead.

The battle took place late yesterday in an automobile, as the officer was taking the young man and a blonde girl companion to a police station for questioning, after stopping their car for a traffic law infraction and finding it was a stolen machine.

Berlow admitted he and Bedell committed a series of robberies in Los Angeles and here. He is held on six charges, headed by murder.

Five Facing Arraignment For Slaying

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Facing arraignment for the slaying of Tom Kerrick, "two-guns" movie cowboy, five participants in an all-night film colony revel were held in the county jail here today without bail.

The defendants, Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, widow of the slain film player, Iris Burns, Henry Isabell, Anita Davis and Joe Hunt, were taken into custody at the conclusion of funeral services for Kerrick late yesterday.

Their arrest followed the return of blanket indictments by the county grand jury, voted, it was reported, as the result of garbled accounts of the party at which liquor and jealousy played a prominent part, according to the testimony of those present.

Woman Tries to Take Life by Poisoning

Swallows 23 Bichloride of Mercury Tablets; Condition Grave

Mrs. Georgia Wilkinson, 24, a visitor in Santa Ana for the last six weeks, is in a critical condition in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, as the result of swallowing 23 tablets of bichloride of mercury with suicidal intent, according to the attending physician.

Her condition at noon today was grave, it was said, and there is little hope for her recovery.

A letter, received from her husband, who is an employee of the Illinois Central railroad, in Shreveport, La., is said to have caused the woman to attempt suicide.

She was discovered soon after taking the poison by a grocer, who administered antidotes until a bigger ambulance arrived and carried the woman to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Physicians said that few cases of bichloride of mercury poisoning have lived and that this case was one of the most serious.

The husband has been notified of his wife's condition and is believed to be on his way to Santa Ana.

Japanese Child Burned to Death

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—The 22-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Iriye, Japanese gardeners, was burned to death at Home Gardens today, when the child, playing with his two-year old brother, set fire to their home.

Iriye had gone to Los Angeles to purchase supplies and his wife had gone into a field to work, leaving their 11-year-old son, Raymond, to look after the two small children.

While the older boy went to a nearby store, the babies obtained matches and built a fire with papers. The younger child was burned to death, the other suffering serious burns about the face.

Reorganize Guard At Folsom Prison

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Warden Court Smith, of Folsom prison, has reorganized the prison guard, it was announced today, appointing Barrett Huse, of San Francisco, as Secretary, to replace Bruce Morrison, for many years secretary under former Warden J. J. Smith. Huse formerly was of Tulare county.

J. Cornell, record clerk for several years, has been dismissed and George Jennings appointed to the position.

Frank Meyers, veteran of 14 years' service in the prison guard, was relieved of his duties and Ray Singleton promoted to his position as assistant turnkey.

Israel Berlow, army deserter, is the youth held. Douglas Bedell was the friend he killed accidentally when a shot aimed at a policeman Frank Small missed its intended mark and pierced Bedell's forehead.

The battle took place late yesterday in an automobile, as the officer was taking the young man and a blonde girl companion to a police station for questioning, after stopping their car for a traffic law infraction and finding it was a stolen machine.

May Try Gardener On Murder Charge

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Officers left here today for Stockton to bring back to this city Louis Schuler, at one time employed as gardener for Harry Chandler, newspaper publisher, who shot and killed G. Repezeak, chauffeur in March, 1925. Schuler has been confined in a hospital for the criminally insane at Stockton but has regained his sanity, it was reported, and will probably be brought here to face murder charges, police said.

Mrs. Snyder Ends Four-Day Effort to Pin Guilt for Crime on Former Lover

DAUGHTER IS CALLED

Corset Salesman Relates Parts of Career Leading Up to Present Situation

(By United Press)

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 3.—Henry Judd Gray, the lean, black-haired corset salesman, accused of having wielded the window weight which crushed the life out of Albert Snyder, began the recital of his version of Snyder's death today.

He was called to the witness stand after 9-year-old Lorraine Snyder had given answers in childish voice to two questions and after Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder had completed her four-day effort to pin upon her former paramour the responsibility for the murder.

Gray started with the date of his birth and began telling the story of those parts of his career which have led him to his present situation.

Q.—"Have you regularly been connected with any church?" asked Samuel L. Miller, attorney for Gray.

A.—"Yes; the Presbyterian church."

Q.—"When did your church experience begin?"

A.—"At three years of age."

Q.—"And you have been a constant communicant of the Presbyterian church ever since?"

A.—"Not constant; no sir."

Q.—"How is that?"

A.—"I was until 1915, when I joined the Episcopal church."

At this point Justice Scudder demurred and Attorney Miller spoke up quickly:

"We are just outlining the course of conduct on the part of the defendant, your honor."

Lorraine Snyder was asked only two questions.

"Do you remember the morning your mother awoke you and was it daylight or dark?" asked Edgar Hazelton, counsel for Mrs. Snyder.

"Daylight," came in the childish treble.

"Did you go for Mrs. Mulhauser (a neighbor) right away?"

"Right away," said the little girl. She was not cross-examined.

With Lorraine's testimony, the case in behalf of Mrs. Snyder was ended and Gray's attorneys called Gray as their own first witness.

ROANOKE, Va., May 3.—As Walter L. Booth still clung to the thread of life he gripped tenaciously since his lungs collapsed 12 days ago, friends responsible for his continued existence revealed new faith today in his ultimate recovery.

This afternoon four youthful members of the 18-year-old farm boy asked for rooms adjoining Walter's at the hospital, stating they were prepared for a long siege against the paralysis which downed their chum.

Thirty friends of the stricken youth have worked in relays pumping Booth's arms to force air in his chest, ever since an injury to his vertebrae on April 21 affected the thoracic nerve connecting with his lungs and paralyzed him from neck to waist.

BALDNESS

—How You Can Avoid It

IT is now a well-known scientific fact that most cases of baldness are caused by the disease "Alopecia Pitrodes," often mistaken for common dandruff.

You can quickly recognize it—trouble by the so-called "dandruff" scale, sometimes dry and fatty, sometimes grayish-white and greasy. At first a slight falling of the hair is noticed, which you see in your comb and brush, but as the bacteria multiply by the million, the falling of the hair increases rapidly, and in time the head becomes entirely bald.

The disease is an insidious one because the loss of hair is gradual at first, increasing at a rapid rate as the hair roots become infected. The average person usually neglects his scalp until the disease has run its course and the inevitable itable bald spot appeared. You can stop the trouble, ridding the scalp of germ-laden dandruff scales; with an effective formula discovered by Prof. John H. Austin, over forty years a hair and scalp specialist. This formula, called "Formula G," Prof. Austin used in his private practice with amazing success and it proved effective in hundreds of cases. Not a tonic, but a scientific formula in pleasant cream form that contains remedial agents which would lose their strength in liquid. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, destroys the destructive bacteria, cleanses the scalp and revives the luster and life of your hair. Guaranteed to banish dandruff and stop itching scalp immediately. Ask your druggist for Prof. John H. Austin's "Formula G"—certain results guaranteed or money back.

MILLIONAIRE IS REAL BOOSTER FOR SANTA ANA

George McKinney, millionaire of Bessmer, Mich., who has been wintering in Santa Ana, left here early today to return to his home, after "the best winter I ever had in my life."

Mr. McKinney has been staying at the Santa Ana hotel and in a short interview today declared that when the snows begin to fall again in Michigan he would be back in Santa Ana.

Coming here to stay only a few weeks, to overcome bronchial trouble, McKinney said he fell so much in love with Santa Ana that the falling of the hair is noticed, which the bacteria multiply by the million, the falling of the hair increases rapidly, and in time the head becomes entirely bald.

May Breakfast Will Be Held Tomorrow

A May breakfast is the unique entertainment idea conceived by the members of the Congregational Women's Union, and interest of all their friends is centered in the pleasant affair which will be held tomorrow morning in the dining-room of the church.

In order to accommodate those who desire an early breakfast, the indefatigable committee will be ready to serve by 6:30 o'clock and will continue on duty until 8 o'clock. And the menu! It has been arranged as a palate-tickling affair, and will offer a variety calculated to appeal to the most capricious of tastes.

Should you desire the well-known twins, doughnuts and coffee—they will be served you. Or perhaps those affinities, bacon and eggs—or waffles and maple syrup—will have their appeal. Or it may be you prefer the continental breakfast of coffee and a roll. It shall be yours. Or grapefruit or oranges. Or toast and coffee. Or bran and cream. Or shredded wheat. Or a grand combination of everything. The idea is that you may obtain your breakfast and an appealing one, by dropping in at the church dining-room on your way to the office.

Nor will breakfast be all. For another committee is planning for an equally toothsome luncheon at mid-day, when serving will be from 11:30 a.m. until 1 o'clock p.m. And the palatable dishes, like those of the breakfast menu, will all be home-cooked. This also will be open to all business men and women, and anyone else who wishes to drop in for an appetizing meal.

To complete the affair, the members of the Union have been devoting their spare time to making articles for home adornment and use, and these will be on sale at attractively arranged and decorated tables and booths.

Those members in charge of breakfast plans are Mrs. Archie Gorton, Mrs. Norbert Lentz, Mrs. C. H. Lurker, Mrs. C. H. Chapman, Ms. Neil D. Winslow, Mrs. W. E. Foote, Mrs. Ferry, Mrs. H. L. Bascom and Mrs. J. A. Ranney. In charge of luncheon details will be Mrs. E. M. Nealey, Mrs. C. W. Leamer, Mrs. Florence Hicks, Mrs. R. J. White, Mrs. Arthur Pease, Mrs. J. G. Mitchell, Mrs. C. M. Rowland, Mrs. Frederica Miller, Mrs. A. P. Humphrey and Miss Panell.

Tables and booths promise to be made colorful and lovely with flowers, as the decorating committee members are making elaborate plans for beautifying them.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
Thank God you are blessed with routine tasks, which you can perform almost automatically, for the immediate future, and which will hold you busy enough to keep you busily engaged until the first shock of your grief is passed.

It is through doing things, and not through thinking about them, that healthful exercise brings out the weariness and then the refreshment of body, mind and spirit, which follows a brief period of rest. And, your greater strength, you will face your problems with renewed vigor and hope.

COLLEGE BOYS
TAKE OFFICES AT BREAKFAST

College students during their years in academic halls are living life, not preparing for life, the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church of Santa Ana, told the members of the Campus "Y" association at the installation breakfast held this morning when the new officers, headed by Melvin Harter, took over the direction of the Santa Ana junior college organization.

"During the time you are in college, you are living life to the fullest extent," the Rev. Schrock said. "Through your Christian ideals, you have a great influence for good in contact with other students and in participation in activities."

"The members of the Young Men's Christian association and the Young Women's Christian association especially have great privileges and responsibilities."

The installation service was in charge of the Rev. Schrock. He gave the oath of office to Harter, president-elect, and the other cabinet members. An impressive candle light service was included in the service. The tables were arranged in a triangle symbolizing the three-phase program of the "Y" association. At each corner of the triangle, electric candles were burning.

A promising outlook for next year's activities was seen for the association under the charge of outstanding student leaders in college.

President D. K. Hammond was among the honored guests at the breakfast service. Other special guests were Miss Muriel Smith and Miss Endi Twist of the college Young Women's Christian association, McKee Fisk, Robert Perry Schrock of the Campus "Y" advisory council.

ONION GROWERS DECLARE CROP BEST IN YEARS

Onion growers in the Coacheella valley are engaged in harvesting the largest crop of onions ever grown in the valley, according to Fred P. Jayne, president and manager of the California Crate company, which has the California agency for onion crates manufactured by the Cummer Manufacturing company, of Paris, Texas, and which formerly were manufactured here by the California Crate company.

Reporting that he had taken orders for more than 1,000,000 crates, Jayne said: "3000 acres in the valley are devoted to this vegetable and that on account of splendid growing conditions the yield is proving enormous, some fields producing 600 and 700 crates to the acre. The average yield, he said, would be around 400 crates to the acre."

It is estimated the crop will total 2400 carloads. The local man pointed out that unusual conditions exist in face of the big crop, in that prices are high, the onions selling from $1.75 to $2.50 per crate f. o. b. valley points, still higher prices in prospect.

"The high price situation has been brought about by the depreciation of cold storage stocks of onions all over the country and the partial failure of the Texas crop, harvesting of which is just being completed. Last year Texas shipped 5300 carloads of spring onions while shipments this year will not exceed 4200 carloads."

The Yellow Bermuda and White Wax varieties are grown in the valley.

Pointing out that the California Crate company discontinued the manufacture of crates here because high prices for lumber made it impossible for the company to compete with Texas manufacturers, and recounting sale of the manufacturing business to the Cummer Manufacturing company, Jayne said the local company had a 10-year contract for handling the California business of the Texas concern, with stockholders receiving benefits.

JUNIOR REGISTER CUP IS WON BY TUSTIN H. S. CLASS; ANAHEIM WINS TWO TROPHIES

Winners of cups in the 1926-1927 Junior Register contests were announced today by Mason Yould, assistant managing editor of The Register as follows:

Tustin union high school, winner of cup offered Orange county high school journalism class doing best work over entire year in Junior Register.

Robert Wilson, Anaheim union high school, winner of cup offered for best editorial.

Nellie Sackett, Anaheim union high school, winner of cup offered for best individual work.

Virginia Vlau, Tustin union high school, winner of cup offered for best straight news story.

Sam S. Sasahara, Garden Grove union high school, winner of cup offered for best feature story.

Marshall Dunkin, Tustin union high school, winner of William Lorenz cup offered for best cartoon illustrative of Orange county high school student life.

This year's award to Tustin high school is the fourth year in succession that Miss Emma B. Hield's class has won the Junior Register trophy. The cup won by Sam S. Sasahara, of Garden Grove, is the first to go to that school.

Nellie Sackett of Anaheim wrote the "Mother Colony News Notes" for the Junior Register every week and the judges had little difficulty in deciding upon her as the winner of the cup offered for the best individual work. Robert Wilson wrote more editorials than any other Junior Register writer and the judges evidently thought one of his in particular was the best of the many published.

Virginia Vlau of Tustin handed in many straight news stories of an excellent order. Dunkin was practically the only contestant for the cartoon cup. Inasmuch as only two photographs were submitted for the prize cup, that trophy was withheld. Presentation of cups will be made within the next few days.

THREE ACCUSED OF STEALING AVOCADOS

Accused of stealing about 1800 pounds of avocados from the orchard of Luther Lindauer, at La Habra, three Mexicans were held to answer to superior court on a grand larceny charge, following their preliminary hearing late yesterday before Justice H. E. Hart, at La Habra.

Louis Lopez, Antonio Navarro and Faustino Hinojos, all of Los Angeles, were the three defendants. Testimony at the hearing connected them to the sale of about $50 worth of the allegedly stolen fruit, identification of which was offered by Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins, in charge of the prosecution.

Attorney D. G. Wetlin represented Hinojos, who did not take the stand in his defense at the pre-trial hearing. Lopez and Navarro both testified, declaring that they had purchased the avocados.

Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday delivered a prisoner to the county jail. He was Walter V. Zellick Jr., 21, who had been sentenced to serve five days in the county jail for speeding.

"I didn't exactly deliver the prisoner. He wanted to know where the jail was located and I merely took him over to show him where it was," Morrison said.

Zellick was arrested several days ago on the Irvine boulevard, charged with speeding 55 miles an hour.

Zellick lives at 425 Matel avenue, Hollywood. He will be freed Friday morning.

VARIED PROGRAM FEATURES AT INAUGURATION DINNER

In recalling last night's inaugural dinner of the Business and Professional Women's club, when Mrs. Laura Murray and her staff were inducted into office, members of the club were today at a loss to select the feature of the evening of the most outstanding interest. Whether it was the unforgettable talk by Alma Whitaker, the west's most famous newspaper woman; the musical part of the program introducing such artists as Lyle Anderson, Elmo Sundquist, Dorothy Mead Parker, Georgia Bell Walton and Adeline Cochems, the clever one-act play presented by Ernest Crozier Phillips' young drama students, or the presentation of the new officers, everything was of real and complete interest.

Journalistic Career

Glimpses of the trials and also the triumphs of a woman journalist's life, were vouchsafed the enthralled guests by Miss Whitaker, whose trenchant pen daily delights readers of the Los Angeles Times and whose trenchant tongue delighted auditors last night.

All the guests found the screens, vases, china and other articles contributing to the Japanese decorative motif of unusual charm and beauty. Their interest was heightened when they learned that all had been gifts to the father of the young hostess, during his lifetime, when he was closely associated with the Japanese in his banking associations.

Following an afternoon at cards it was found that Miss Betty Hoy had scored high with Miss Muriel Smith of Orange, low. Each received an attractive gift.

Refreshments were served on beautiful Japanese china, with a different color scheme was carried out at each table. Here the honoree was surprised through the presentation of a huge birthday cake which had been made by Mrs. Winslow. Miss Jessie Scott assisted in serving.

Guests included Miss Judy Evans, Miss Katie Benton, Miss Enid Twist, Miss Evelyn Metzger, Miss Muriel Smith, Miss Elaine Smith, Miss Louise Stephenson, Miss Betty Hoy, Miss Dorothy Beals, Mrs. Myrtle Ketchum and Miss Veda Mitchell.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Congregation church bungalow was made lovely with flowers last Friday afternoon, for a social meeting sponsored by the newly organized Mother's class of the church school. A most interesting program was offered the young mothers, including a talk on child training by Dr. Margaret Baker, charming solos by Mrs. Benjamin Livesay, and readings by Charlene Lowell, after which tea and talk was the order.

While their mothers enjoyed the program and sociability, the little folks had a party of their own in charge of Mrs. F. L. Woodhouse and Mrs. Martha Rutter. It is planned to hold such meetings once a month hereafter.

Young Married People's Class

Last Friday evening, members of the Young Married People's class of the First Baptist church met in the banquet room of the church for their monthly social time. Quantities of flowers added attractiveness to the room, with Cecil Bruner roses, the class flower, predominating.

Following a short business session the evening was in charge of the social committee, Mr. and Mrs. Edward U. Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Corn who were unanimously voted royal entertainers by their classmates. The hours sped quickly with numerous jolly games.

Refreshments of potato salad, sandwiches, home-made chocolate cake and coffee were served by the general hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hemmen will entertain the class at a patriotic party late in May. All young couples who are not identified with other church schools, have been asked to join this friendly class, of which A. R. Marshall is teacher, and the Rev. J. T. Burnett, assistant teacher.

P. E. O. Observance of Mothers' Day with Luncheons

In accordance with their annual custom to celebrate Mothers' day with a luncheon at which mothers or close friends are complimented, P. E. O. members of the city gathered yesterday for the pleasant events.

Chapter A B

Members and guests of Chapter A B, P. E. O., enjoyed the charming home and friendly hospitality of Mrs. G. W. Bond, 507 East Myrtle street, where luncheon was featured at 1 o'clock.

One Act Play

The remainder of the evening was spent in the lobby where Ernest Crosier Phillips introduced the characters in an amusing one-act play, "Getting Acquainted." The young people were Miss Mary Arnold, Miss Doris Kearns and DeRoy Dixon, and in presenting the play, they displayed their own excellent talent as well as the directing ability of Mr. Phillips' directing.

There were approximately 125 members and guests gathered for the pleasant evening, and to offer their congratulations to Miss Kaiser upon her successful year, and to Mrs. Murray for the compliment extended by the club in offering her its highest office.

The growth of the B. and P. W. has been a steady one since its founding four years ago, and the past year has been a highly successful as well as an interesting one under Miss Kaiser. So it is with confidence and interest that the members embark upon the new club year under the leadership of Mrs. Murray, assuring her of the same loyalty and co-operation which have been given earlier presidents in turn, Miss Doris Robbins, Miss Mabel McFadden, Miss Martha Whitson and Miss Louise Kaiser.

From ventures into newspaper work, the speaker continued with tales of the great—and the near-great. And in conclusion she had the temerity to touch upon Hollywood and Los Angeles folk who have been greatly in the public eye of recent months. And for all the biting wit which characterizes this remarkable woman in both her written and her spoken word, it was learned that she possesses as well, a splendid sense of charity and open mindedness.

Accompanying the speaker from Los Angeles, was her husband, Jerome Reynolds, the two having places of honor at the president's table with Miss Louise Kaiser, retiring president, and her staff of officers, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Miss Ethel Coffman, Miss Elaine Wharton, Miss Martha Whitson, Miss Hannah Marston and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott.

Guests of Honor

Other honor guests of the evening, in addition to the new official family, were the presidents of other service clubs and their wives. Those accepting the invitation included George A. Ragan, president of the Round Table, and Mrs. Ragan; Fred C. Rowland, president of Rotary, and Mrs. Rowland; Berle Morthland, president of Exchange, and Mrs. Morthland; Clarence S. Crookshank, president of Lions club, together with several prominent Lions, including Messrs. Lyle Anderson and Elmo Sundquist, who added greatly to the program. The honor guests were introduced during the evening by Miss Elaine Wharton.

As the guests entered the dining room it was to piano and violin music by Miss Georgia-Belle Walton and Miss Adeline Cochems. Tables were beautifully arranged with colonial dolls, candles and other decorations. Wedding rings, birds, snappers, and similar favors were placed at the plates, and Manager Robert L. Bisby served a most enjoyable chicken dinner. In fact, so excellent proved the fare, that in the intervals of nibbling at an artichoke, Miss Whitaker whispered to her neighbor, "Do you always have such wonderful dinners here at the Inn?"

Music Numbers

In the intervals of dining, "Andy" Anderson led in several spirited songs, with "Sunny" Sundquist at the piano, and later in the evening, gave an amusing monologue, ending with his song, "Santa Ana," which took third place in the recent home town song contest. Another enjoyable musical feature was given by the Legion Auxiliary chorus, directed by Mrs. George Parker (Dorothy Mead). The girls made a pretty appearance in white frocks, fashioned alike, and sang very charmingly. Their numbers were "Out of the Dusk to You" and "The Little Church House," and for an encore number, "The Zither."

After the musical numbers, Miss Kaiser made a very brief talk, expressing her appreciation for the loyalty and co-operation offered her by every member of the club, during her year as president, and then introduced Mrs. Murray, installing her as president. With her was introduced each officer in turn, Mrs. Minnie Mayhill, first vice president; Miss Galene Finley, second vice president; Mrs. Anna Bishop, secretary; Miss Mabel Larrick, sergeant-at-arms.

Following the introductions, Miss Ethel Coffman, one of the retiring officers, arose and in voicing the chapter's thanks.

GIVES OUTLINE OF PROGRAM AT P.-T. A. PARLEY

Reports received today by Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, president of the Orange county District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, from the various city federations and local associations throughout the county, indicate that Orange county will be one of the best represented units at the state convention, to be held in Los Angeles, May 31 to June 3, inclusive. It is expected that more than 100 delegates and visitors will register from Orange county, inquiries revealed.

According to Mrs. Kelsey, from the opening session to the closing event, every moment will be used in one of the most constructive, comprehensive as well as interesting and entertaining programs ever planned by the state organization. Every department of state work will be reported on; every phase of child welfare will be featured in some way. Each bureau manager and the six directors of the departments of organization, extension, public welfare, education, home service and health will have speakers, many of whom are nationally known.

Following are some of the more prominent speakers listed on the convention program: Dr. Bird Baldwin, New York, a noted authority on child welfare problems; Miss Ethel Richardson, state superintendent of adult education; Dr. Newell Edson, New York, National Association of Social Hygiene; Mrs. Earl Morris, Santa Ana, manager of the national bureau of program service of the P.-T. A.; Dr. Lela J. Beebe, San Francisco, state of child hygiene, P.-T. A. and member of the California state board of health; Helen Mathewson Laughlin, dean of women, University of California, Southern branch; Dr. Harvey L. Eby, Los Angeles, associate professor of rural life, University of California, southern branch; Judge George Bullock of the women's court, Los Angeles; Dr. John F. B. Caruthers, Occidental college, state chairman of spiritual education, California; P.-T. A.; Dr. Regina Westcott, Occidental college, formerly dean of the Teachers' college, Santa Barbara; Dr. Sven Lokrantz, director of health and corrective education, Los Angeles city schools; Dr. J. D. Dunshee, state chairman of physical education; and Dr. Elizabeth Woods, state chairman of mental hygiene.

All sessions, it was added, including the convention banquet at the Ambassador hotel on Tuesday evening, May 31, are open to the public. Many round table conferences for the entire delegation as well as special dinners for the art, rural life, publicity, music and good films, have been arranged by the convention committee.

At the banquet, to be attended by a large number of out-of-state P.-T. A. workers, having attended the national convention the week before in Oakland, Mrs. A. H. Reeve, national president, and William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the principal speakers. Mrs. F. O. McCulloch, of Los Angeles, state president, will preside and Mrs. C. M. McRoberts, senior past president of the Tent district will be toastmistress. Other distinguished guests who will give words of greeting and response are Mayor George Cryer of Los Angeles; P. J. McGarvey, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of the Los Angeles city schools; Robert Odell, president of the Los Angeles city board of education; Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, Los Angeles county; Mrs. G. A. Reilly, first vice president of the California P.-T. A.

Special Spanish music from the Mission Play, interspersed with vocal solos by noted Los Angeles artists, will feature the banquet, to be held in the spacious ballroom of the Ambassador. The pages and ushers for the convention will make their first appearance in Spanish costume, under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Miller, chairman of ushers and pages.

Clayton Palmer, supervisor of agriculture of the Los Angeles schools, chairman of decorations, will provide a tropical setting, typical of California.

Mrs. Kelsey pointed out that one interesting report to be given at the convention will be that of state statistician, Mrs. Robert L. Burns, Los Angeles, showing a marvelous amount of money being spent by the various P.-T. A. units throughout the state on musical instruments, books, pictures, rags, cafeterias, playground equipment, scholarships and nutrition.

Jury Exonerates Driver of Car In Verhofstead Death

FULLERTON, May 3—Edward H. Verhofstead, of the Southern hotel, who died in the Los Angeles county hospital Saturday morning from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile, came to his death in an unavoidable accident, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury in Los Angeles yesterday.

The jury decided from testimony presented that Verhofstead was not using due caution while walking along the highway, and exonerated Richard E. Heldrich, of Los Angeles, driver of the car which struck Verhofstead and his companion, Clyde Harbert, of Fullerton.

The accident occurred about 2 o'clock Thursday morning on Compton avenue, near Los Angeles.

Harbert, who resides at 225 East Chapman avenue, was at home today. He received severe bruises and a sprained ankle.

Beach City Plans To Buy Bonds

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 3—The city has a total of $227,529.37 on hand in the treasury, according to the monthly report of Joseph Vavra, city treasurer, at the monthly meeting of the board of trustees last night.

That the city's exchequer is in exceptionally good condition is attested by the fact that checks aggregating $60,000 were included in the demands on the treasury of the city and which will be paid out for bonds paying four and one-half per cent interest.

The money with which the bonds are being purchased was derived from the sale of the gas system, it was brought out at the meeting. The various bonds purchased were first approved by the city attorney, A. J. Thiedick, city treasurer, Vavra, and city clerk, C. R. Furr.

GAS COMPANY EMPLOYEES TO MEET AT BEACH

Recent addition of Laguna Beach to the chain of Southern California communities served by the Southern Counties Gas company is the incentive for a meeting of the Orange County Efficiency club, composed of employees in the county of the gas company, to be held at that beach on the evening of May 18, according to an announcement today by J. R. Ott, president of the club and superintendent of the company.

Invitations have been issued to officers and employees of the entire system, and it is anticipated the attendance will pass all records of the county efficiency club—and on a number of occasions in the past the club has been host to large groups of men and women.

The first feature of the evening will be a "hot dog" roast, the eat program being scheduled for 7 o'clock. "There will be plenty of hot dogs and trimmings," in the words of the president.

The Laguna Beach dance hall has been chartered for the evening, and following dinner, those who may enjoy dancing will indulge in this amusement, with the Casper orchestra providing the music.

Grunion are scheduled to run on the same evening, and it is anticipated that those who have considered the "run" as a myth will stroll along the beach and watch for the appearance of the "tall spinners."

O'Brien, Hoppe Tangle Tonight

LOS ANGELES, May 3—Tommy O'Brien and Dick Hoppe, lightweights, meet in the main event of 10 rounds or less at the Olympic tonight.

O'Brien's right hand wallop, which had almost every opponent he has faced on the canvas, will send him into the ring a 10-to-7 favorite to win.

Girlish Charm

The exquisite daintiness you admire in so many women depends as much on their hair as their peach-blown complexion and stylish clothes. You can't look good with a pretty dress and dull, stringy hair any more than you would be neatly dressed if you had on a pair of shoes with runoverheels.

You don't have to be denied the admiration you love, because your hair isn't lovely. It is so easy to keep it soft, bright and silky. But don't expect shampooing to do it. Soap and water only washes out the dirt, but can not remove dandruff and that oily film on each strand which keeps hair dull and lifeless. Danderine does it, without drying out the hair too.

The next time you fix your hair, wet your brush with Danderine and draw it through with long, even strokes until each strand is alive and glowing. It takes just a few minutes each day. There's no inconvenience of waiting. You can go right out, and the improvement you will see in the loveliness of your hair will thrill you so you will want to always have Danderine in your room along with your other beauty necessities, so you can make it a daily habit to use it. It will help to keep in your waves.

Danderine is so inexpensive too. The 35c bottle contains enough to prove to you how wonderful it is. You can get it from your nearest store.

NEWPORT BEACH BOARD AWARDS CONTRACTS FOR JETTY PROJECT

Hauser Company Is Given
West Wing Construction
At Total of $354,000

COUNTY FIRM IS GIVEN OTHER JOB

Cut Length of East Jetty
200 Feet to Come Within Limits of Finance Plan

Contracts for work on the construction of two jetties at the entrance to Newport Harbor were let last night by the Newport Beach board of trustees.

The bids, let to different contractors, totaled $447,000.

The Hauser Construction company, of Long Beach, was awarded the contract for the repair of the present west jetty and its extension 500 feet. The Hauser bid totaled $354,000. Lee R. Weber, of Newport Beach, was awarded the bid for the construction of the east jetty at a figure of $92,000.

The west jetty is to be of rubble stone construction in keeping with the present jetty work. New revetments to protect the mass of the jetty are to be placed by the contractor. The Hauser Construction company will place about 140,000 tons of rock in the west jetty repair and extension work.

The east jetty is to be constructed of reinforced concrete interlocking piling. The jetty is to be constructed in sections and will be of a permanent type. More than 2500 tons of rock will be used to protect the base of the structure.

The length of the east jetty was cut from 1000 to 800 feet to make its construction possible. The additional 200 feet, which was at first decided upon, would not have come within the $500,000 bond issue.

Considerable controversy arose over the letting of the contracts.

Trustees differed over the material to be used in the east jetty.

Trustees L. S. Wilkinson and H. H. Williamson voted for rubble stone construction on the east jetty.

Other trustees, outnumbered them and voted for the concrete type, which engineers testified would be permanent. The rubble stone would need repairs, engineers testified.

Work will start on the jetties at once.

CALL CITIZENS TOGETHER FOR DISCUSSION OF PARKING RULES

Mayor Asks Merchants and
All Interested to Meet
Next Monday Afternoon

BID IS RECEIVED FOR WATER WORKS

Council Denies Request of Electrical Contractors
For New City Inspector

An offer to purchase the Santa Ana water works by Minck and Olaison, a Tulsa engineering firm; opening of bids for ornamental lights on Third, Fourth and Sycamore streets; plans for holding a citizens' meeting next Monday afternoon for purpose of discussing the downtown parking situation, and routine matters, featured the regular city council meeting held last night at the city hall.

The offer to buy the city's water works, was contained in the following communication, dated Tulsa, Okla., April 28:

"Would the city of Santa Ana consider an offer to purchase the Santa Ana water works for a cash consideration? If so, we would be glad to have you forward a balance sheet and operating statement for 1928, and advise us what you are asking for the property based on a cash transaction. We have the money for an outright purchase. Signed—C. E. Olaison for Minck and Olaison, Constructing and Erecting Engineers, 720 South Kenosha Avenue, Tulsa.

Decline Water Works Bill

Declining to consider the offer, the trustees directed the city clerk to advise the bidders that the city's water plant is not for sale.

Bids were opened for installation of ornamental light on Third street from Broadway to French, on Fourth street from Ross to Main, and on Sycamore street from First to Church. The bids were referred to the city engineer for tabulation and report.

The parking problem in the business section came up for discussion, in which connection it was decided to call a citizens' general meeting for 3 p.m. Monday, May 9, at the city hall for the purpose of discussing the various phases of the situation. In stressing the need of a revision of the parking laws, Mayor Frank L. Purinton expressed the hope that the merchants as well as all others interested would come to this meeting and there state their views on the subject.

By an unanimous vote of the trustees, City attorney Charles D. Swanner was directed to abandon former proceedings relating to the extension of North Sycamore street from Washington to Seventeenth. This measure, it was explained, will pave the way for new proceedings with a similar objective.

A petition to place two additional lights on Linwood avenue, as the present single light is not sufficient to illuminate the street at night, was referred to Trustee Stanley Goode for report and recommendation.

Would Mark Off Sidewalks

The matter of widening North Main street from First street to Washington street, already a subject of much controversy among property owners, came up for discussion. Councilman Goode, pointing to controversial phase of the proposed project, suggested that the sidewalks of North Main street in the business section be marked off

Robert Bradford, Baritone,
Will Sing Prologue
to "Pagliacci"

The second program of music week, to be given tonight at the high school auditorium, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, will present the Santa Ana municipal band, the Santa Ana Cantando club, Robert Bradford, baritone, soloist, and Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, noted music educator and critic.

The band will be directed by the leader, D. C. Cianfoni, and will present several operatic numbers on which, in order to present them perfectly, a great deal of work has been done by the Santa Ana musicians.

The Cantando club will make its debut to the music lovers of the city at the program this evening. Directed by Leon Eckels, the 60 male singers will give "To Arms, To Arms" (Mauder); "Morning" (Speaks).

Included in the numbers by the band will be "Grand Selection" from the opera "Aida" by Verdi.

Bradford will sing the prologue to the opera "Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo.

The program will close with a symphonic march "Music Week" composed especially for the band concert during music by the leader, D. C. Cianfoni.

Milton Foster, a member of the music week committee, spoke of the speaker of the evening as follows:

"Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, who appears at Santa Ana High school on Tuesday evening is today a unique figure in the world of music. He has been an amateur performer, coach, conductor, song leader and composer, besides acting as music critic for two New York papers and one in Boston.

"His books include 'Read 'em and Weep: The Songs You Forgot to Remember,' already a best seller; 'Words and Music,' 'Barber Shop Ballads' and 'The Common Sense of Music,' the last named a practical introduction for the layman, now in its tenth edition.

"The popularity of Dr. Spaeth's work rests upon its human appeal. He is never dry or technical, but stimulates every listener or reader with the vivid qualities of his style and his inexhaustible fund of humor.

"His topic on Tuesday evening will be 'The Common Sense of Music.'

Freeman H. Bloodgood spoke of the band as follows:

"Prof. D. C. Cianfoni began this organization in November, 1923, with 18 members. The band was rapidly augmented to 50 members. In May, 1924, with six months training, and all local musicians,

LOCAL PLAYERS USE DIRECTOR IN NEXT SHOW

a capable player for the part—but there was no one to aid him, so in sheer desperation, he took it himself, and hence will be seen in the dual role of director and actor.

Questions recently asked concerning the inception of the Santa Ana Community Players' association and its early history occasioned much reminiscing among members of the cast of "Smilin' Thru," and caused Harriet Owen Enderle, star of the play, who will play the double role of "Kathleen" and "Monyeen," to outline the beginnings of the association, as follows:

"The Community Players started as a dream in the mind of one man—Ernest Crosier Phillips. He had long hoped to be instrumental in organizing a group of townspeople who were interested in acting, into an association which should have for its purpose, the presenting plays for sheer love of the work."

"Phillips realized that Santa Ana, though not so large, nor nearly so rich as Pasadena and Santa Barbara, contained much the same class of people as those cities. He knew that Pasadena had a thriving group of Community Players, and because he trusted in the good taste of the people that he knew, he thought it very possible that a Community Players body might be formed here."

"In Pasadena was a group, the members of which met together to produce plays without profit to themselves, and who charged their audiences only enough to cover running expenses. Why shouldn't Santa Ana do the same?" Phillips knew of individuals who had played professionally, who would gladly give their services. He knew of young aspirants to the stage who might be kept away from the perils of the cities if they were given a chance to express their talent at home. He knew of business men with splendid voices who could play straight parts, and who would be glad to give of their time for the recreation afforded by a game of "Let's Pretend." And, most important of all, he knew that the majority of Santa Anans are home loving people who would rather do without seeing legitimate drama than have to drive to Los Angeles at night to be entertained. To bring the best current plays to Santa Ana as well as to review past favorites, was what Ernest Phillips hoped to do.

"At a meeting of the Monday club in the guild room of the Church of the Messiah, in November, 1919, Phillips presented his plan. In connection with his talk on the Little Theater, he presented a one-act play, 'Fourteen,' with Gladys Simpson, Anita Cox and Burr Shaffer composing the cast.

"It was not until October, 1920, that the Community Players association was complete. With a competent board of governors and officers, and a long list of committee to assist, the first production of "The Fortune Hunter" was underway. The first officers of the Community Players were as follows: President, Miss Estelle Nelson; vice president, Mrs. Robert Northcross; treasurer, Alex Brownridge; managing director, Ernest Phillips. The governing board was composed of Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Miss Verna Peterson, Mrs. E. M. Nealey, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Charles Riggs, Fred Rafferty and Burr Shaffer. Heads of committees were: Producing, Hazel Beumer; music, Ollie Mae Matthews; publicity, A. V. Napier; library, Mary Harris; entertainment, Mrs. Ella Campau; decoration, Nell Sumner; scenery, W. A. Griffith; costumes, Louise Lauritzen; ways and means, O. Garber."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WILL GIVE OPERETTA

MUCH WATER IS SAVED FOR IRRIGATORS BY ASSOCIATION

"The Village Squire," an operetta in three acts, will be presented by the music department of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school the afternoon and evening of Friday, May 20, according to Miss Myrtle Martin, under whose direction rehearsals are being held by the cast and choruses in which there are 90 students.

The operetta was written by S. J. Mustol, band and orchestra leader at the Santa Ana high school. For three successive seasons, it was given by professionals in New York. Santa Ana students will be the first amateur group to undertake the presentation of "The Village Squire."

Rehearsals are now being held evenings by the cast. There are 12 principal characters. Besides these, the combined boys and girls glee club of the high school will be in the choruses. Some of the students will give special dances. The concerted effort of the music department is to be devoted to the operetta as the biggest undertaking of the year, according to Miss Martin.

The scenes of the operetta are laid on a farm in New England. Special costumes, representing typical farmer folk, are to be worn by the cast members. The plot of the presentation centers about David, the farm lad, who wants to go off to sea. He is assisted by Captain Fenton, who hopes that he will not return, thus removing him as a rival for the hand of the girl, Kate. David, however, does return to claim the girl.

The parts in the cast are taken by Nada Smith, as Kate Saunders; Virginia Bailey, as Estelle; Adele Edwards as Bessie; Marian Brunner as Bella Sweetwine; Loretta Spangler as Polly Perkins; Roger Hearn as David; Paul Settler as Joe Holler; Clarence Ranney, as Harold Wiggs; Clarence Siddoway as Captain Fenton; William Warren as Si Tibbins; Hubert Prior as Reuben, and Carleton Buck as Tom Skalen.

THEATER MUSICIANS TO AID FLOOD FUND

Members of the West Coast-Walker theater orchestra, were taking up a collection among themselves for the Mississippi flood relief today when they decided they could give more assistance if they offered their services for the Mississippi Flood Relief dance, to be held Friday night at the American Legion home on Birch street.

Permission was granted by the Musician's Protective Association and in a short time several other musicians were "rounded up" to augment the orchestra.

Ed Kolbe, chairman of the Legion dance committee, who has charge of a number of the plans for the dance, said today that everything was in readiness and that he believed the dance would be one of the largest ever held here. Tickets are on sale at a number of downtown stores and are selling rapidly, he said.

EXPECT 'FIGHT' AS CLUBWOMEN MEET

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Sacramento, the old-time battle ground of northern and southern California, today settled back to witness a new internecine scrap, waged this time by the women.

Rumblings of dissatisfaction in the ranks of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, holding its annual convention here this week, were heard today as the convention went into session with Dr. Marian Bertola, of San Francisco, president, in the chair.

The Southern California delegation, it is declared, will oppose the selection of another northern California woman for the presidency. As the nominating committee has virtually agreed upon Mrs. W. W. Green, of Boggs, as president to succeed Dr. Bertola, the fireworks are expected when an opposition candidate is nominated from the floor.

Chester H. Rowell, California editor and economist, addressed the convention at the morning session.

Exonerate Agents In Flyer's Death

GARDENA, Calif., May 3.—Two federal immigration inspectors who shot down Arthur J. Daugherty, student aviator, were completely exonerated in connection with the flyer's death by a coroner's jury here today.

Following the verdict, which was returned after 30 minutes' deliberation, Immigration Director Walter Carr announced that six Chinese had been arrested and that he had positive evidence that they had been smuggled across the border.

Director Carr said he would prove that Daugherty, with six other aviators now under arrest, were engaged in smuggling their human cargo from Tia Juana into this country when federal inspectors seized their planes and killed the young aviator.

Above, one of the diversion dams of the Water Conservation association. According to Francis Cuttle, president, the association is conserving 7500 inches of water daily, or enough water is turned out daily to irrigate 150 acres for one year, the income from which, at a low estimate of $100 an acre, would mean enough water is being conserved every day to produce $15,000 gross income.

Operations of the Tri-Counties Water Conservation association in spreading water in the debris come in the Santa Ana river has resulted in the sinking of 16,480 acres feet of water this season, according to a statement by Francis Cuttle, of Riverside, president of the association.

At the present time there are about 7500 inches of water available on the property owned and controlled by the association for spreading purposes, the president said. This water is being turned down the river at the request of those having prior water rights, rights that the association always recognize.

The remaining numbers were clarinet duet by Christy Demetropoulos and Vincent Garen; piano solo by Merriles Rankin; clarinet solo, Mr. Matthews; song by the la sextette, Virginia Paul, Betty Rowland, Jean Hoy, Eula Gross, Harold Black, and Reesa Allison.

It will be seen that the water spread this season has a gross value to the counties of Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside of $840,000," Cuttle said. "Storage of water in these underground gravels can be accomplished at a lower cost than the water can be stored in any other way.

"Unfortunately, 50,000 acres feet of water escaped into the ocean during the past season. When the plan for complete flood control and conservation are completed by the state engineer and engineers employed by the three counties, the way will be open for the construction of works for complete flood control and conservation of this valuable water."

FORMER S. A. MAN BUYS BIG RANCH

Roy Vincent, former owner of the Vincent Manufacturing company here, has purchased a ranch of 1450 acres in the Springville district, near Porterville, it became known here today, the consideration being $66,000.

Vincent is now living at Glendale and included in the transaction was an exchange of his residence in that city at a reported consideration of $20,000.

Vincent and his family will move to the ranch property at once, according to a statement here today by E. E. Vincent, father of Roy Vincent.

The ranch is said to be one of the finest stock ranches in the San Joaquin valley. The purchase price does not include stock on the property.

It was revealed that the seller, Harry Sickles, and Vincent have been close friends for the past five years, and that the former Santa Ana man has anticipated the time when he might become the owner of the ranch.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

After everybody had told their jokes the club took up the question of going to Los Angeles to see a ball game on Saturday. As some of the boys wished to go and see the track meet in the Coliseum and some wished to go to the ball game, it was decided that they would divide the cars and every boy go where he wished. It was also decided to stay for supper and then go to a show.

Girls' Vocations Class

The girls in Mrs. Thatcher's vocation class are at present studying the vocation of home making. They are trying to discover the qualities which make a girl a good home-maker, the desirable training she should receive, and the most important characteristics of a successful home, and have discussed ways of improving home conditions. Each girl in the class has written a description of an ideal home. The one selected by the majority of the class as most interesting was written by Florence Wasson, and is given below.

An Ideal Home

I think home is a place to come to for comfort and rest; a place secluded from the public interest. I think that a home is like our universe and that "mother" is the sun—the main source of happiness. A home without a mother is like the universe without sun. I think that the song that is worded, "If the world turns against you, there's no place like home" is very truthfully stated. A mother is peace-maker, advisor, comforter, and helper. Brotherly and sisterly love is brought out, and generosity is the main quality. Each member has his or her tasks, faithfully performed, giving the family a binding love to one another. Money cannot buy happiness, except in one form,—giving necessities to the unfortunate. Some poor families are happier in their rude home than millionaires, because they have found the key—unselfishness.

Babies are a blessing to every family. They give a happy atmosphere to the home. A house becomes a home by the patient and loving care given it.

A mother does not need a large education. She should cultivate character, not mind. She should develop in her children, patience, strong-mindedness, zeal for work, cheerfulness, unselfishness, self-control, initiative, courtesy to mankind, tidiness, honesty, obedience, good care of body and mind, wise choice of friends, courage to do right and others. If a mother fulfills this, she has earned a great reward.

Health Exhibit

Last week another exhibit from the home economics department under the direction of Miss Fitz, attracted considerable attention. This is the third of a series of exhibits which have been arranged by different groups of girls for a contest. This exhibit was divided into two parts—both showing tables set for a child's meal. One meal consisted of a very poor combination of food such as pickles, coffee, cake, candy, etc. The result was that the little child was irritable and became sick and had to spend her time in bed. The other part showed a well balanced meal and the child was pictured as happy and healthy. There were also appropriate pictures on the walls which showed the importance of food to health. This exhibit was arranged by Helen Bower, Frances Mallard, Edna Hicks and Lucille Hayden. Everybody is anxiously waiting to see what the next group of girls will have to exhibit this year.

Gold Scholarship Pin Awarded

Mabel Wilson, of the 6a class, has been on the Honor society roll for five semesters of her junior high school course. In recognition of this splendid record Mrs. Thatcher presented the gold scholarship pin here during a special assembly last week.

Willard Leads in Contest

Winners of the annual W. C. T. U. essay contest were announced in the special assembly held last week. Mrs. Clark, W. C. T. U. representative, presented the prizes to the winners. Willard is proud to have taken five prizes in the essay contest and three in the preliminary scrapbook contest.

Lois Read won the $10 prize which was first place for the ninth grade. Elizabeth Rinkler won the second place in ninth grade. Lillian Hurwitz won first prize for eighth grade. Guy Purinton was awarded first prize. Lillian Hurwitz won first in the eighth grade, and Doris Bolles won first in the ninth. This is an unusually fine record and all are proud that we were so successful this year.

Willard Pupils Go to Ojai

Last Friday morning a crowd of pupils, accompanied by Miss Franzen, motored to Ojai to enter the Southern California tennis tournament for all grammar schools. The results of their efforts will be printed in next week's paper. Last week during the special rally assembly, Miss Franzen presented the large size school letters to those who won places in tennis this year and were in line for the trip north. Those receiving the letters were: Boys' singles, Elwood Lindsey; Boys' doubles, Hidio Higashi and Russell Gundrum; girls' singles, Barbara Burup; girls' doubles, Mamie Sue Hill and Minnie Lou Hill.

Faculty Picnic at Laguna

Last Thursday the Frances Willard faculty enjoyed a picnic at Laguna Beach. The afternoon was spent in hiking and playing ball. Later the refreshment committee served an appetizing meal of tamale pie, fruit and potato salad, buns, pickles, cakes and coffee. A campfire was built which added to the pleasures of the evening. It was regretted very much that several of the teachers were unable to be present due to previous engagements for that afternoon.

Birthday Surprise

A meeting of the Willard Welfare club was held on Wednesday April 27. After a short business meeting members proceeded with the program. A huge and beautiful birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Thatcher in honor of her birthday. It was truly a work of art for besides being iced it was adorned with candies and a kewpie doll. Although very surprised, Mrs. Thatcher rose to the occasion promptly with some humorous and interesting stories of her childhood celebrations.

EDDIE FARRELL PLUGS HOLE IN GIANT INFIELD

New York Manager Refused To Farm Penn Athlete; He's Glad of It Now

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK. May 3.—One of the most potent of the forces driving the New York Giants in their early pennant, is a chunky little dentist, Dr. Eddie Farrell, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania and one of the few college stars who made the trip from the campus to the major leagues without a stop in the bushes.

Like Bill Terry, the first baseman and another power of the Giant attack, Farrell had to sit for several years on the bench peering patiently from a dark corner, waiting his chance.

Terry got his chance and delivered when George Kelly was traduced down the river to the Cincinnati Reds. Farrell got his chance—and delivered—when Travis Jackson, the regular shortstop, was laid low with an attack of appendicitis as the club was moving north from the training camp.

Is "Acting Shortstop"

Farrell isn't the finished grace of Jackson and he lacks Jackson's experience. He is just working into a double play combination with the Rajah, Hornsby. But he has driven in as many runs and winning runs in the pinch—as any regular on the club.

Two years ago in Sarasota, when the staff was cut down, McGraw was asked where Farrell was going.

"He's going where we go for some time," McGraw answered.

Some of the experts wondered what there was in the chubby little collegian that McGraw thought so well of, but they admitted the Giant leader usually knew a ball player when he saw one.

McGraw for Him

In the past winter when various and numerous Giants were being discussed as probable material for trade, Farrell's name was not mentioned.

"McGraw likes that boy and you'll see him around next season," it was said. And it is a mighty good thing for the Giants that McGraw liked him and that he is around this year.

Farrell's case is somewhat similar to that of Mike Gazella, the former Lafayette football and baseball star, who has been peering out of the Yankees dugout for an extended period.

Hugging stuck to him when others thought he was doing the boy an injustice by keeping him on the bench, but Gazella is just about to step into a regular job and there are few who doubt that he can hold it.

Smashing drives and accurate placements by Fullerton's girl tennis players completely dazed the Santa Ana high school co-eds in a tournament yesterday at Fullerton with the result that the Poly girls were defeated, 20 to 0.

If Santa Ana should draw matches with San Diego, Long Beach, South Pasadena or Whittier in the early rounds, the Poly players may be able to go into the final rounds against the touted players from the other three most feared schools. Santa Ana is rated as the best of the "also rans."

The conference tennis tournament comes in the midst of the schedule of dual meets. Santa Ana yet having to play Pasadena, Alhambra and San Diego.

Players eligible to compete in the annual Southern California tournament will be decided by the league meet.

MAY 10 NAMED BOATS TO RACE DEADLINE FOR FROM CATALINA INDOOR TEAMS TO BAY JUNE 5

Routine business occupied the entire attention of the Commission of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association which held its second meeting in the offices of President Otto A. Jacobs last night. The commission made one important decision, however, when it voted unanimously to call for formal applications immediately of teams desiring to enter the City league at Lincoln park this summer.

After considerable discussion the commission decided to set May 10, at 7 p. m., as the deadline for applications, all of which must be accompanied by the entry fee of $20, of which $5 will be returned if the team completes its schedule of games.

Ten organizations already have signified their intention tentatively of entering the league. There will be places for only eight clubs and while the commission took no action officially it was intimated that more serious consideration will be given them that post their applications and fees promptly.

All applications and fees may be filed with Secretary Eddie West, sports editor of The Register, or Treasurer Dean V. Colver, at the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, the commission ruled.

Written applications were received from the First National bank and the George Dunton Fords but the commission decided to wait until its pow-wow next Tuesday before passing on them.

Discussion was opened relative to the fencing of Lincoln park but this matter also was "laid on the table" until Tuesday.

John Wilcox, manager of the Santa Ana team of the Orange County league, was instructed to purchase suits and paraphernalia for 12 players.

An outboard motor boat race from Avalon, Catalina, to Newport Harbor, with a $500 perpetual trophy offered by William Wrigley Jr., as first prize, will be held June 5, it was announced here today. The contest will be sponsored by the Newport Harbor Yacht club, the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce and the Catalina Island Yacht club.

Race plans are being arranged by a committee composed of Commodore William Warmington, of the Catalina Island Yacht club; Commodore B. H. Cass, of the Newport Harbor Yacht club; J. A. Beck, past commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht club; Henry Warren, publisher of Pacific Coast Yachting; Frank Smith, president of the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce; R. C. Bell, of Newport Beach; Antar Derage, coast guard service man; Dick Leynes, chairman of the racing committee of the Newport Harbor Yacht club and H. V. Smith and Ray E. Chapman, Balboa, sportsmen.

The course is to be "laid" across the channel from Avalon, to a pilot boat anchored off Newport Beach where the boats will be checked in. The racers will then continue through the entrance and into the bay where they will finish.

The event, which is proposed as an annual affair, will begin at 7:30 a. m. from Catalina. A number of trophies will be offered and plaques will be presented every boat that finishes.

The event is expected to draw boats from all sections of the Pacific Coast and from the Mississippi valley. Outboard motor boats have been making some excellent times on Newport bay during the past few weeks and if any of the boats can make anywhere near the same time in the ocean, the race will be over in about three hours. It is not expected that the racers will finish in less than four or five hours, however.

SPEED WIZARD

Here's Joe Meyer, one of the two track captains at Ripon college in Wisconsin. He holds the mid-west conference record in the 100 and 220-yard events, his time in the hundred being 9.8 seconds. Meyer is only a sophomore but he has won every race he has been entered in the last two years.

TWILIGHT BALL MEET SET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

A meeting of all persons who are interested in the formation of a Santa Ana twilight indoor baseball league for summer recreation will be held Thursday night, at 7:30 o'clock, at the T. C. Neal sporting goods store, 209 East Fourth street, Seth Bullock, post office employee who is acting as spokesman for a group of enthusiasts, announced today.

Bullock said it had been decided to exclude from the twilight circuit all players from the night league in order to make it a game in which business men and office employees may participate without feeling they are unequal to the top.

"We want to make the league something for the 'bum' ball player," Bullock said. "We don't care much who wins as how much recreation and exercise we are going to get out of it."

Bullock urged all persons interested to attend the meeting. Action relative to the entry of the competition from Wykoff, Creecy of Jefferson and Loder of Long Beach.

OLIVER COUNTS ON HIS MEN TO BEAT PASADENA

Vallejo, Berkeley Provide Chief Northern Threats; Glendale Cinch to Win

While it would be Thomas foolery to suggest that "Tex" Oliver's henchmen might rise to the heights and stick a running nose out in front of those extraordinary Glendale Dynamiters in the State Interscholastic meet at Modesto Saturday, there are good reasons to suspect that the Santa Ana high schoolers will be good for one more surprise and pin a toe-hold on second money, Pasadena or no Pasadena.

Pasadena, it will be recalled, was tied for the second spot in the Southern California Interscholastic at the Coliseum Saturday by the youthful Mr. Oliver's hearties and twas bruited about considerably that Coach Claude Hippel of the Millionaires was greatly exasperated at this unexpected turn of events.

Young Mr. Oliver is not inclined to puffery as those who know him will testify but after making a cursory inspection of the Northern California Interscholastic results at the Stanford stadium Saturday, in which the premier tracksters of that region bowed their respective craniums to Berkeley, and getting an earful from Chico where Vallejo outgassed an evenly balanced field of young athletes, the Santa Ana mentor began "figgering" his charges would be up there or thereabouts at 5 p. m. this Saturday.

Poly Can Hold Points

Oliver doesn't see how Santa Ana will score anything less than the 15 points it recorded at the Coliseum but he does feel that Pasadena is likely to lose some of its 15 points rather than enlarge on its total; in other words, that Poly is more certain of holding its digits than is Pasadena.

"Teddy" Welch, the skinny hurdler who scored a double victory for Pasadena at the Coliseum, is not such a cinch to repeat at Modesto because Bert Ritchey, the black fellow from San Diego, may not hit a hurdle up there and lose his stride. Ritchey defeated Welch in the Coast Preparatory league meet at Glendale and he was leading the Pasadena at the Coliseum until he clicked his next to last obstacle. Welch is a cinch, however, in the low hurdles.

Harold Breeding should not have much difficulty in the mile. White of Petaluma is the best man in the north but the 4:39 he turned in at Stanford won't place him against the Southern representatives. Hall and Storms, Breeding's most dangerous adversaries, aren't even eligible for the Modesto fest and the tall Santa Anan has proved on sundry occasions his superiority over Martinez of Chino and Callahan of Manual Arts. Hover, of Chaffey, may trouble him at the finish but Breeding should win this race and perhaps smash some records because it will be his last crack at them as a prep school runner.

Can Bear Beat Phenoms?

There are those who maintain that Harvey Bear can out-sprint Frank Wykoff and Russ Slocombe, the Glendale phenoms, over 220 yards. Be that as it may, Bear certainly won't be poorer than third at Modesto. Hahles, of King City, ran 10 2-5 and 22 2-5 at Stanford but he will be lucky to get in at the money unless he improves on that this week. Hahles is said to have gotten a poor start in the century, however.

John Moffatt, lanky Poly high hurdler, who gave the boys a thrill by streaking to third place in the All-Southern, may have to dig to hold this place against the Northerners but Moffatt is a fine "come-through" performer and as he can step better than 16 seconds when he is "right," Oliver isn't fretting about his points in this race.

Velarde is now so consistent at 21 feet, 6 inches in the broad jump that Oliver is counting on him for another second place and he is hoping the diminutive Spanish lad will get away a 22-foot lunge and trim the talented Wykoff. Fresno has a jumper who cleared 21:5 in the West Coast Relays at Fresno but he will be the lone dark cloud from up north and Velarde probably again will obtain the major part of his competition from Wykoff, Creecy of Jefferson and L

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

ROOSEVELT

Art Lessons
The art classes of the upper grades of Roosevelt school have made quite a fine bulletin board of pictures of foreign children. This was in preparation for the designing of a foreign costume scrap book in the high sixth grade.

Among the picture are complete outfits for the Russian, Chinese, Japanese, Norwegian, Swedish and German.

Oratorical Contest

The children were delighted with the W. C. T. U. oratorical contest held in the kindergarten Friday morning. Each of the five boys did exceptionally well. Dean Francis was awarded first place and presented with a medal.

May Baskets

Miss Grant made cunning little May baskets for all the children in the low first class. Each delicately tinted basket was filled with candy and flowers.

The children in the kindergarten made May baskets on Friday to give to their friends. Most of the baskets were proudly carried home to "mother."

New Pupil!

Roosevelt school is very, very proud of its newest and youngest pupil. It is the only pupil in the school without a name. Its parents, however, are well known, for they are none other than "Teddy" and "Sissy," the pet canaries in Mrs. Wolf's room. The tiny baby bird is growing every day and seems to like the school room. Needless to say, the canary family is very happy and busy.

World Wide Club

The meeting was called to order by the president, June Sogn. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Lucille Reynolds. There was no old business and the meeting was turned over to the social chairman, Don Wismer.

The topic for the afternoon was "Nature Study." The children had written composition. The following children read their: Bernard Horton, "Value of Birds"; Raymond Floyd, "How to Study Birds"; Jack MacFarlane, "Around the Campfire"; Kenneth Georgeon, "Submarine Life"; Marcile Dickson, "Value of Birds"; Irma Boreland, "Shells"; Dorothy Carey, "Value of Wild Flowers"; Billy Wolter, "Birds"; Lucille Reynolds, "Value of Birds"; David Webb, "Value of Birds"; Virginia Carisola, "Rock Collections"; De Wit Cline, "Values of Pets"; Ella Moreno, "Pets"; Emma Regla, "Value of Dogs"; Thelma Hole, "Value of Trees"; Gordon Beisel, "Save the Trees"; Reginald Vaneil, "Value of Trees"; Bruce Harnois, "Dogs"; June Sogn, "Value of Trees"; Winifred Triplett, "Dogs."

Baseball Game
Last Tuesday the "Black Pirates" and the "Blue Eagles" had a ball game. The two captains were Gerald Crawford and Don Wismer. Miss Lindsay umpired for the game. They played five innings. The score was seven to three in favor of the "Blue Eagles."

PARENT TEACHERS

Lincoln

At the April meeting of Lincoln P.T.A., the president, Mrs. J. H. Bower, conducted the business session. At this time, a communication was read from Mrs. Fay Spangler, president of the city P.T.A., outlining the work which the various organizations will be expected to carry for the coming year.

The main objective will be to assume the control of the "Mothers' Health Center," which was organized by Spangler and P.T.A. and the health nurse of the city. Dr. Margaret E. Baker, in charge of the center, told of the work and of the mothers who have been aided by the organization.

At roll call, it was found that Miss Zollman's class, the 5A, had the most mothers present, and will have the honor of having the large flag in their room this month.

Mrs. George Monroe, chairman of the nominating committee, reported, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. C. James; vice president, Mrs. Floyd Knight; secretary, Miss Doris Schenck; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Palmer; parliamentarian, Mrs. R. M. McKnight; historian, Mrs. W. H. Lowe.

Miss Helen Woodworth and Miss Margaret Kuehl, of the county health department, took charge of the meeting. Miss Kuehl, school nurse, presented the plan for study circles in the P.T.A. and it was later voted to form two study groups next year, for the members, one from the kindergarten to the third grade, and the other from the third to sixth grades. It was suggested by Mrs. C. N. Palmer and voted upon, that Dr. Margaret Baker and Mrs. J. H. Bower have charge of these groups. The study of these circles shall relate to the welfare of the child in the home, the school and the community, taking up the physical, mental and social development of the child.

An added attraction of the meeting was a food sale, the food being provided by mothers of the lower grades, while mothers of the upper grades provided the purchasers. The association cleared $34 by the sale, and the proceeds will be used to make the final payment on the mimeograph purchased for the P.T.A.

After a social time, the meeting adjourned to convene again the first week in June when the 6A classes will present a graduation program.

Tree Conservation Posters

The Federated Women's clubs of Orange county have just conducted a Tree Conservation Poster contest among the schools of Orange county.

The posters were to emphasize care of trees, tree planting, forest fire prevention, and the value of trees to future generations. A shrub or tree to be planted in the school yard is to be given each school participating. The pupil who wins the first prize in each individual school contest is to be asked at the tree planting as a mark of special honor. There is a tree offered by the State Horticultural society for the best poster made in this contest. The prize winner is to be announced later.

The following schools have entered posters supervised by the teachers indicated:

LOWELL

Lowell School

The Fair! The Fair! The Lowell Fair!

O, let me sing of the wonders there!

First of all, the flower booth—

A colorful bower of beauty, in truth;

Next things fashioned by fingers, small;

Dresses for dolls and I recall

And holders such as a mother needs;

Dresser dolls and flowers all waxed—

To remember them all you'd be quite taxed;

Next in line was a booth of toys

And novelties made by little boys;

A lovely bird-house said "For Rent"

In which any bird should be content;

There were stamps and coins and a radio

And ships carved of soap, "It floats," you know;

And another made of turkey breast

Which surely would float on the ocean's crest.

A handsome man and proud, with al,

Was the mighty King of the Vegetable Stall,

Who told me that his Lord of Snore

Was a cabbage head—and nothing more!

I wish I could quite describe the food—

The cakes and candies looked so good,

And the jello and fluffy meringue pie

Was a truly feast to even the eye.

But best of all was the live stock show—

Much nicer than any circus I know!

There were bunnies white, and bunnies black,—

Three dozen of them to carry back;

And cats and kittens too cute for words

And bright yellow canary birds,

And pigeons and gold fish and polly-wogs

And poor little worried puppy dogs

With ribbons bedraggled and dirty and O,

Just sick to death of the whole long show!

There were guinea pigs and ban tam chicks

And a chicken who shot he'd play some tricks

By having instead of two legs, five,

And apparently very much alive;

A Polly Parrot had much to say

And helped the teachers all the day;

A mother hen just wouldn't shirk

Her very important daily work

So she layed an egg and then sang loud

At the wonderful Lowell School Children's Fair!

Immediately following the viewing of the exhibits, the mothers of

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: John Jacob Astor

Sketches by Bessey
Synopsis By Braucher

John Jacob Astor landed at Baltimore and made his way at once to New York where lived his brother, Henry. For a time he was employed as a baker's delivery boy. Then an acquaintance impressed upon him the bright future of the fur trade. A basket of cakes often was enough to buy a valuable pelt on the wharves of New York.

Young Astor next was employed in a fur store, beating the furs to keep out the moths. He learned quickly about the trade.

The youthful immigrant was continually asking questions of the Indians and trappers about sources of more furs.

Astor soon was making trips to Montreal to buy pelts for his firm and later set up a little general shop of his own in New York. Indians were anxious to trade furs for tobacco or cotton goods. London was the goal of Astor's operations. Beaver skins that a pound of snuff would buy sold at profits of 400 to 500 per cent.

The Tinies sat high in the tree and Scouty shouted, "Mercy me! Our parachute is broken, so our flight is over now. The basket's fallen to the ground. I heard it land there with a bound. We can't sit up here in this tree, so let's get down here."

And then, "Be quiet," Clowny said. Of course the others all went led to wonder what the matter was. They eyed him in surprise. He whispered, "Something's down below. No fooling, now. I ought to know, 'cause I have just gazed downward and I've seen it with my eyes."

And then wee Copy had to laugh. Said he, "Why it's a big giraffe. He's merely having supper. Leaves is what they eat, you know. Let's climb right down so we can play. He'll see us and he'll run away. I'm sure that he won't harm us. Why, you'll laugh to see him go."

But when they got down near to it, the long neck did move a bit. Then Scouty reached and patted

LONE TREES STANDING ON WINDY HILLS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

They say that if we were to dump our troubles into a pile and were told to pick out one of our own choosing, each of us would take his own.

If you think you were born under an unlucky star it may be a comfort to know that your next door neighbor or the people across the street, the family above you, or the family below you, has a burden of some sort that is as heavy as yours.

They may not have it at this minute, but I believe absolutely with Longfellow that "into each life some rain must fall." If we had no trouble—no burden—no storms to weather, we should not be worth much, any of us.

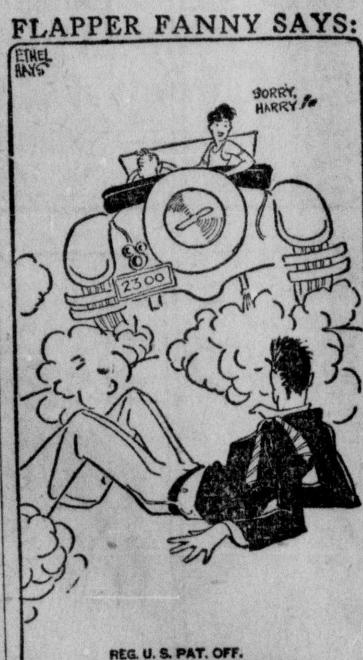

I learned something from a sailor. When sailing vessels are built, the spars, or crossbeams that hold the masts, must be made of particularly tough wood. For trees of this sort woodsmen do not look in a forest. They look for a tree that has grown upright and alone on a windy hill.

There are days I get tired and discouraged. I think that I have a heavy burden, for it seems that my responsibilities are greater than those of my friends. Perhaps every mother with a family feels this.

Mothers are alone. No one can quite understand what their responsibility is. Not even fathers, and certainly not children. Moreover more is expected of mothers now than ever before. Child specialists learn what should be done, but the mothers have it to do.

I have summarized the vast army of mothers in a few words. "They work and they love, and they do their best!" It is hard sometimes, but there isn't one who would have it otherwise. Storms, drought, summer's heat, and winter's cold! Lone trees on windy hills!

The most worth-while troubles are children! We often confuse trouble with responsibility.

It seems as though you just can't go joyriding without running into someone you know.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Summer

Today's girl may consent, in a pinch, to wear a darned heel in her beige silk hose, but she will not, no, she will not, go without her rouge and perfume. Statistics say that the sale of perfumes and cosmetics has increased six times within the last decade. Nearly one hundred and twenty-one million dollars' worth of creams and rouges, tooth pastes and powders, hair tonics and dyes, perfumery and toilet waters, lipsticks, eyebrow pencils, bath salts and sachets were produced for sale in the United States last year.

* * *

The Why-For

This increase in so-called "beautifiers" has always followed a great war. Boiled down, it means woman's competition for the male, competition being necessary because of the greater number of females. To be sure, this reason is not known to the individual woman who "dolls herself up," but it's the real reason she dumps freesia bath salts into the tub, daubs on a geranium lipstick and coats herself with powder.

* * *

Gabbers

Please don't think that I "have it in" for all salesladies, "being as how" I ever and anon feel called upon to give them a few pointers gratis. Here's another one, girls. Why in the world will you gabber like an eternally-wound-up talking machine when we're trying on duds? Suppose we try on a new tan kashmir coat with a beige summer squirrel collar. There are so many things about which we must meditate as we revolve before the glass. Do we want tan, after all? Will it go with our dresses as well perhaps as a navy blue one? Will our green hat be okay, or will it mean a new tan lid? Is it too much of a sport coat to wear with our rose chiffon afternoon dress? Or do we really want a coat after all? Wouldn't a suit be better?

* * *

Tally One

And throughout all this ruminating, the saleslady is chirping and wheezing and blabbing and moaning—"My dear, it's perfect for you—perfect—that's your color—isn't it, dear—and those hipline tuckings are so good for you and you'll never regret that fur—it wears like iron!" There should be at least six more paragraphs, but I haven't the heart nor the space. If you only knew it, girls, that's why we walk out on you—seeking to find a seller without the gift of gab.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Halves of grape fruit, cereal, cream, fish omelet, criss-cross toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked eggs and bacon in spinach border. Parker-house rolls, drop molasses cookies, lemon jelly with whipped cream, milk tea.

DINNER—Salisbury steak, creamed potatoes, hot French slaw, banana and peanut salad, graham bread, floating island, milk, coffee.

Fish omelet is very good and rather out of the ordinary. Often there is too little fish left from the family dinner to amount to much in making a left-over. The fish omelet uses just this little bit of fish to advantage.

Fish Omelet

One cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup flaked cooked fish, 4 eggs, 4 tablespoons hot water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon butter.

Melt two tablespoons butter in smooth sauce pan, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly, add milk, stirring constantly. Reheat fish in sauce. Beat eggs with hot water until very light. Melt one tablespoon butter in iron frying pan or omelet pan and turn pan to coat with butter. Have the pan hot and turn in omelet, cook over a medium fire until firm. Lifting edges of egg mixture as they cook to let the uncooked mixture run under. When omelet is firm, sprinkle with salt and pepper, spread half of the surface with two tablespoons of creamed fish. Fold omelet and turn out into a hot platter. Surround with creamed fish and garnish with sprigs of crisp parsley.

Eyes often speak more eloquently than lips. Therefore, eyes are vastly important in the scheme of beauty.

Expression is all-important to eyes. For eyes are an index to the intellect and the soul. They register a woman's inner life. They speak of her sweetness and understanding. They betray her selfish character.

But, of course, certain rules apply to beauty of the eyes. Perfection of eyes depends on spacing, contour and expression—perhaps in the reverse order in which these factors are mentioned.

Spacing the Eyes

Wide-spaced eyes often intrigue and create the impression of restfulness and peace; Alice Joyce, for instance. Narrowly spaced eyes may suggest nervous temperament, restlessness. The eyes that give the same satisfaction that a perfectly balanced art object instinctively gives, are just an eye's distance apart.

FEW PENALTIES FOR TAXPAYERS OF BEACH CITY

OIL FIRM TO DRILL AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, May 3.—The first permit for an oil derrick within the city limits of Seal Beach since the new ordinance went into effect, was issued here this morning to the Associated Oil company. The well, for which the derrick is already under way, is known as Hellman 16, on Hellman hill, 200 feet south of the north line of the city in the northeast corner of town.

Some time ago the city council passed an ordinance opening the city to oil drilling and providing restrictions under which the oil companies will be permitted to enter the city. A fire ordinance provides restrictions in the case of oil wells to protect the city against fire hazard under oil drilling conditions.

An application by Capt. Olaf Olson to use the landing on the Newport Beach pier to carry passengers to a fishing barge to be located off Newport Beach was denied. The city has an agreement with the present barge operators giving them the exclusive right to carry passengers to a fishing barge.

An application for money for prizes for an outboard motorboat race from Catalina Island to Newport bay was referred to the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce by city trustees.

City trustees authorized the transfer of $3500 from the general fund to the water fund to pay for a new water well which is being drilled.

An application for a permit to erect a bait stand on city property on the coast highway near the Arches service station was taken under consideration.

Trustees failed to approve a bill for $3 presented by former fire chief, A. W. Jackson, when City Clerk Alfred Smith reported that telephone company officials had told him that a bill was never rendered to Jackson for his phone. Jackson in a letter to the trustees threatened to carry his claim before the small claims court. Trustees ordered the city clerk to secure a written statement from the telephone company regarding the telephone bill matter.

A petition from contractors and builders of the city asking an increase in the city license tax was presented to the trustees. The contractors wish the license raised from $25 per year to $200 per year. A committee investigating the parking plan, proposed by H. B. Tudor, of Balboa, asked another week to investigate the matter. The committee working on the fire ordinance also asked for more time. A report was made by the city license committee. City Attorney Clyde Bishop will draft a new license ordinance to present the trustees soon. The ordinance will go into effect July 1, according to present plans.

FULLERTON PASTOR TO GIVE ADDRESS IN YORBA LINDA

AUTO RACERS WILL OPERATE BOATS ON BAY

NEWPORT BEACH, May 3.—The Rev. Dr. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Fullerton, will be the speaker at the May meeting of the Yorba Linda Community Brotherhood to be held at the Friends social hall on Friday evening. The meeting will start with the usual dinner served by the women of the Friends church at 6:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hunter will speak on "The Development of International Civilization," a subject to which he has given a great deal of attention. Dr. Hunter has just been appointed a member of the commission to the Balkans, by the American committee on the rights of religious minorities, which will visit the Balkans in June and July to study the minorities in Roumania, Yugoslavia, and Hungary. He also expects to attend a conference for promoting international friendship through the churches, at Constance, which is to be held the last of July.

The new pleasure boat industry will have its headquarters in the bay at the foot of Palm avenue. The city trustees last night informed the applicants that at present no city license was required but that an ordinance covering the matter would go into effect July 1.

According to Sendy and Wanerlich, the boats will be operated on the bay and will make short trips into the ocean. It is possible that speed trips to Catalina Island also may be scheduled.

A city ordinance preventing the throwing of newspapers, circulars or advertising matter upon public streets or private property, without the consent of the owner was read for the first time. The ordinance makes the distributing of advertising matter a misdemeanor and provides a penalty of not less than $25.

An application by Capt. Olaf Olson to use the landing on the Newport Beach pier to carry passengers to a fishing barge to be located off Newport Beach was denied. The city has an agreement with the present barge operators giving them the exclusive right to carry passengers to a fishing barge.

EVENING SALUTATION
I laugh, for hope hath happy place with me,
If my bark sinks, 'tis to another sea.
—William Ellery Channing.

EFFECTIVE IN AUGUST

Now that the city manager bill for cities of the fifth class has been signed by Governor Young and is to become effective early in August, it is time for Santa Ana to consider what action shall be taken under the new law.

The law has two important provisions: First, that the city can institute a city management; second, that the city tax rate, by unanimous vote of the council, can be raised from $1 to not higher than $1.25.

The most important of these provisions is that for the city manager and the most important item in that regard is the selection of a city manager. No poll has been taken of the present council's sentiment toward the question of going under a city manager form of government, but we deem it likely that if, if not already convinced, will conclude that the step should be taken as soon as possible.

It does not seem necessary for the city to increase the tax rate to the $1.25 limit this year. The present tax rate, which is arbitrarily divided into funds, provides sufficient money to run the street and water departments, but does not give money enough to take care of the fire and police departments. The council ought to fix a rate as low as possible and still provide the necessary funds.

THOSE EVERLASTING DEBTS

There has been an impression in America lately that Europe was coming along all right economically. If Sir George Paish, British economic expert, is right, this is not true. Europe can do well enough now in production, he says, but Europe cannot sell. And without selling, she cannot pay her debts.

He therefore brings up anew the question of America "forgiving her debtors."

"If this situation is to be adjusted, if the world is to be placed again on the high road of sound finance, every step necessary must be taken. Therefore I suggest to you that you should again consider the question of the interallied debts, not because Europe is not in position to pay, having regard to its productive power, but having regard to the difficulty that faces Europe in selling its own goods to you. If you would buy the goods from Europe that Europe needs to sell you in order to make payment, there would be no difficulty. But you do not wish to buy them. That is where the trouble comes."

It is a hard dilemma—to forego the repayment of great sums we lend abroad in good faith, or else be repaid in goods flooding our markets and throwing our own industries into idleness or confusion. Just what to do about it is any man's opinion. The public as a whole doesn't know, and therefore holds on automatically to the general principle that debts ought to be paid, regardless of consequences.

BEAUTY CLASSES SUCCEED

Something new in public education is "personal appearance classes." As conducted by a commercial high school, they sound appealing.

The classes, needless to say, are for girls. They have a possible rating of 100 per cent. Everything that contributes to the general improvement of the pupil's appearance—health, dress, cleanliness, adornment, etc.—is counted in. There is no effort at "reform," except hygiene and artistic reform. There is no prohibition of rouge or lipstick, but the girl who uses either finds her rating pulled down 5 or 10 points, and a run in her silk stocking may reduce it another 10 points.

The girls are really interested in those classes. And why not? Beauty is heaven's first law, and any plan that will add more beauty to the world by improving girls' appearance in natural and sensible ways adds so much to the joy of life for everybody. It is better, too, to have right ideas of beauty taught in school than wrong ideas learned elsewhere.

WHAT PRICE ART?

Just at present many news-stands are burdened with copies of "art publications." In fact, if one were to judge by these displays, in spring many fancies turn to thoughts of physical culture; only so far, however, as it pertains to pictures of undressed ladies of the ensemble gazing soulfully at reflections in garden pools. In many cases, the name of the actress-model is given, and in most all cases, where actual photographs are used, the name of the musical comedy in which she appears is printed in bold type. The inference is, that if the beholder wishes to view the nymph in the original form he should attend the such and such "scandals" or "whimsicalities."

Enough is enough and too much is more than enough. These "art publications" are little less than a slyly painted picture of unbridled lust. The public has access to these magazine racks and tables, and the public includes many young men and women of a studious nature who do a great deal of magazine reading. They get these "art publications" in their most impressionable age. They don't seek them but they find them there a-plenty. In Santa Ana, the news dealers seem to have exercised some choice in their selection of this type of literature. The more respectable gymnastic, diet and health booklets are on sale, and even these contain sufficient of the wrong kind of pictures to cast a doubt into the mind of many a parent.

Youth knows a great deal more than the adult gives him credit for. He generally tries to keep his mind clean, but if this sort of thing is continually flouted in his face, he will soon gain the impression that it is the proper sort of thing.

It won't do any good to moralize over the "art publications." A controversy over their merits as "art" literature would but focus attention upon them and make them popular for the sort of people who are looking for just that thing.

Santa Ana parents may consider themselves fortunate in that the type of news dealers here do not go in especially for the undraped lady booklets. But this cannot be said of all Southern California cities and towns.

If we must have art, let us look about us. If we demand it upon the canvas, we can motor to Laguna Beach and see the wonders of sky, the field and sea unfolded before us by master hands. Motor into a mountain canyon while the wild flowers are still in full bloom.

If we must have art, let nature provide it in its purest state. The old saloons were the nearest approach to the "proper place" for the type of "art" in the "flesh" magazines. The saloons have gone. Must we preserve their art?

Water Conservation Imperative

San Bernardino Sun

Citizens of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties need not be lulled into a sense of security as the result of the heavy rains of 1927. Water is rising in wells. In some sections along the Santa Ana river the plane has risen as much as 14 feet. It is encouraging information, but encouraging only for the immediate future. It is a temporary situation. The figures of the past prove conclusively that Southern California is being slowly but steadily drained.

Francis Cuttle of Riverside is the authority for the estimate that only one per cent of the water supply of California originates southerly of the Tehachapi mountains, while 20 per cent of the irrigable land lies in the same region. In this same region there has been an increase of 85 per cent in population in five years.

If all the water that now runs to waste in Southern California were saved it would provide only a 25 per cent increase over the amount now being used.

The figures prove that there must be aid from the Colorado river and likewise that the present waste in water must cease.

During February there was lost in the flood of the Santa Ana river 50,000 acre feet of water. This is sufficient water to irrigate 25,000 acres for one year. The value of that lost water, at conservative figures, was $2,500,000.

Instead of being deterred by the fresh memories of plenty of rain, we need to look at the object lesson in the February flood with keener interest.

The cry for water conservation must continue; we need to know what it will cost to do the things that must be done.

In 1922, another year of heavy rain, there was wasted 80,000 acre feet of water in the Santa Ana debris cone. This is more water than is in Bear valley reservoir when it is full. And yet in 1922 great floods rushed away to the sea. Under present methods of conservation there can be no saving of water until the peak of the flood has passed.

The results of spreading water at the mouth of the Santa Ana canyon are well known. In the years 1923, 1924 and 1925 when the water plane was dropping all over Southern California there was a rise in the plane in portions of the San Bernardino valley artesian basin influenced by the underground reservoir fed from the Santa Ana debris cone. The water stored in 1922 carried over the dry years that followed. Not until the spring of 1926 did the plane begin to drop here, indicating that the benefits of the conserved water lasted for three years. The effect of the water conserved during February and March will not be felt for two years, it has been estimated by Mr. Cuttle.

Senator Swing's bill for $50,000 appropriation from the state to complete the survey of the Santa Ana watershed has passed the senate and will pass the assembly. It is not known whether the governor will approve the measure.

When the state survey is completed, however, the people of the three counties which depend upon the Santa Ana river and its tributaries must determine what they will do with the problem. The purpose of the state survey is to determine what can be done to save all the water of the river during flood periods and what it will cost. The responsibility of solving the problem will rest with the communities which are to benefit from the greater use of water.

Cost May Bring Results

Pasadena Star-News

The dollars and cents consideration may weigh very heavily in deliberations at Geneva over proposed reduction of armaments. The British government is reported to be looking with apprehension at the great cost of battleships of the Nelson type, carrying nine 16-inch guns, one of which has just been launched. In consequence of this agitation for cutting down the cost of battleships it is reported that the British Admiralty will propose, at Geneva, a reduction in the tonnage of capital ships from 35,000 tons, permitted under the Washington Arms Conference agreement, to 20,000 tons. This, it is pointed out would be ample for the policing role entrusted to the navy. A program of this kind would effect a saving of at least $10,000,000 on every battleship built in future—no inconsiderable item.

Reduction in tonnage of cruisers, destroyers and submarines will be proposed by the British government. Great Britain gladly would agree to abolish submarines altogether. But other naval powers would not agree to this—at least, not at this time.

The attitude of the British government is indicative of the sober, thoughtful attention that is being given to the tremendous financial burden of maintaining huge land and sea armaments. The monetary equation will be important in future movements for reduction or armaments.

DYSENTERY IS NOT CONFINED TO TROPICS

The general impression exists not only among the public but also among physicians that amebic dysentery is a strictly tropical disease. The facts are that it is appearing with increasing frequency in the temperate zone and that cases have occurred in persons who have never been in the tropics and, indeed, among people as far north as Alaska.

The disease does not occur in tremendous outbreaks as is the case with typhoid fever, because the organism that causes it is transferred almost invariably by direct contact. The chief symptom of the disorder is the looseness of the intestinal tract, sometimes with the passing of quantities of blood.

The most serious cases of spread of this disease have occurred following the employment of cooks who were subject to it. In this way the food is contaminated and the organisms are carried directly into the intestines.

Sometimes cases occur as the result of eating lettuce or other fresh vegetables that have been grown on soil fertilized with human excretions.

Among the most serious of recent appearances of this disease was an outbreak in Chicago, which involved eight cases simultaneously in one Chicago hotel. These appeared in two or three guests, a houseman, a janitor, a cook and an officer.

Investigators from the health department examined everyone involved in the handling of food and found that the chief person responsible was a night cook. He was a Syrian who had been ill with amebic dysentery for a number of weeks, and who had been treated by a Syrian physician, the latter failing to report the case. A "pantry" girl and a "vegetable" girl were also found to be active carriers of the organism known as endameba histolytica, which is responsible for producing this disease.

In controlling amebic dysentery, when its presence is known to exist, it is advisable to boil drinking water, unless the supply is known to be free from contamination, and to exercise supervision over all foods that are usually eaten raw. Persons suspected of being carriers of the organism should be examined and, if found to be subject to passing the organisms in their excretions, should be treated until the organisms have disappeared.

In His War Togs Again

But He Did It

Oakland Tribune

They told Captain Henry Meyer, Mississippi river captain, that it would be impossible to run his stern-wheeler the Wabash up the drainage canal to flood-marooned people at Wayside. The captain happened to be one of those to whom nothing is impossible. He could hear the cries of the distressed though they were all of a mile away and he took the old stern-wheeler and chugged away against the current.

According to the story the vessel banged against the levee. The guard rails were stripped off and there was a splintering of wood. Shaking under the great pressure of steam necessary to shove the craft against the swift stream, with explosion or other disaster threatened, the Wabash—in appearance as unromantic a craft as ever performed heroic service—made its way and saved five hundred persons.

Captain Henry Meyer came down stream with the Wabash and on board were those who had been rescued when rescue was said to be impossible. Into the terrific story of the Mississippi flood a river captain and an old sternwheeler had written a chapter of heroism.

TRAFFIC WARNING

I saw the wreck a little after it happened:
A car lay up-side-down beside the pavement;
The crowd stood by and gaped upon a drop
Of blood—the sickening symbol of a death.
A limp, white body quickly lifted, thrust
Into an ambulance and hurried graveyard.

It came to me, then, with a sudden pang,
What that is so appalling as this wreck,
In war is but the usual run of things:
There is no brooding on one drop of blood
When the red streams flow darkly from the veins
Of millions sprawling, ghastly, still forever.
O you who hold the wheels that guide the nations,
Drive carefully—for perilous is the highway!

—Richard Warner Borst, in Christian Century.

Eternal Vigilance Is The Price of Safety

By J. P. Baumgartner

If a man of unusual political sagacity, of national and international reputation as a political scientist and practical politician, should tell you that with 300 votes "in his vest pocket" he could run Santa Ana to suit himself, would it jar you out of your political placidity?

Well, by analogy at least, Will Payne says that, and Will Payne is one of the keenest analysts of social conditions in this country.

However, we do not need Will Payne or anybody else to tell us that most of the results of our city elections of recent years could have been reversed with a block of 300 votes—300 votes taken from one side and given to the other. The election returns themselves tell that.

And what Mr. Payne points out only the danger of such apathy on the part of voters—the danger of a corrupt boss or ring seizing the reins of government—he might well have emphasized the fact that an active, aggressive leader of good citizenship could do the same thing.

Mr. Payne's article on "Local Politics" in the current number of the Saturday evening Post, is interestingly tensely interesting and gravely significant.

He uses as a source of illustration, deduction and material for analysis the experience of a Florida city not much larger than Santa Ana; somewhat like Santa Ana in other respects, such as having only recently emerged from the village class, being composed of people from all over America, and having a very small percentage of foreign population. Incidentally, he points out that nearly all of the newcomers have found time to establish themselves in trades, business or profession, but few have as yet got around to that important part of citizenship which involves intelligent, active, effective interest and
